

CHILDREN SHARING THEIR EXPERIENCES ABOUT COVID

Children advocating, mobilizing, raising awareness, informing and communicating.

Asia and the Pacific: Vietnam

VACR is a non-profit social organization participating in the prevention of acts of violation against children's rights as regulated by the national law as well as UNCRC.

We collected children's viewpoints about the impacts of Covid 19 pandemic on children through online format including an online questionnaires survey Microsoft form and a video clip making.

Regarding the videoclip named "What we want to share", has been made from images and documents contributed by students themselves. As the whole, the videoclip was built space for children to be creative, responsive and well-round during the pandemic.

During the implementation of Vietnam Government's order of lockdown (social distancing), VACR applied an online approach to assemble children's opinions. However, in order to reach the expected outcomes, VACR has received assistance from affiliations of VACR and social organization networks to engage children's participation as well as to support them in the contributing participation process of assembling children's viewpoints regarding children's relevant issues.

Vietnam Association for Protection of child' rights