

WORKING CHILDREN CREATING AWARENESS WIN THEIR COMMUNITIES, DIRECTLY ENGAGING POLICY MAKERS

Children advocating, mobilizing, raising awareness, informing and communicating.

Europe and others: Kosovo

In Kosovo, Child Advisory Committee (CAC) members of Time to Talk! - a global campaign supporting working children to take forward child-led advocacy for improving their working conditions and eradicating all forms of child labor - have taken forward concrete actions to create awareness about the challenges and rights of working children. CAC members used national TV programs as a platform to voice their messages, and took forward a painting activity in a public park. In both of these instances children conveyed messages to the public about the situation, working conditions and the treatment of working children by others. Finally, children displaced an artistic performance during the opening of the first Drop In Shelter in the country for children in street situation, where they had the opportunity to talk directly with policy makers and demand opportunities to be heard and participate in decision making process.
