

CHILDREN CONTRIBUTE TO SHAPE DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAMS

Children advocating, mobilizing, raising awareness, informing and communicating.

Latin America and the Caribbean: Bolivia

Save the Children Bolivia launched a social media and radio survey to get first-hand opinions from children, adolescents and their parents about alternatives for distance learning. Results showed that children prefer the use of educational videos with drawings, stories and games, whereas adolescents prefer materials with education content produced by YouTubers and Gamers.

Click here for Save the Children's participation tracker