

CHILDREN CREATING AWARENESS AND MOBILIZING THEIR COMMUNITIES ON POVERTY AND INEQUALITY

Children advocating, mobilizing, raising awareness, informing and communicating.

Sub-Saharan Africa: Ghana

In Ghana, adults and children are equally involved as partners in 'Catholic Action For Street Children Children', an organization working with children in street situations, children on the move, and working children. To create awareness on the poverty and inequality faced by many children living in the streets, children are using drama, poetry and dance to engage their communities and transmit their message appealing to church organizations and traditional leaders to join in the fight against child abuse and child negligence. Many children have been empowered to voice their stories and messages in public gatherings and expand the outreach of their approach.
