United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) has launched the 'Lockdown Learners' series of online dialogues with students and educators in India on COVID-19 and its impact on SDGs, peace and the rule of law. These dialogues aim to sensitize students on concerns of vulnerable groups and issues such as cybercrime, misinformation, gender-based violence, discrimination, and corruption, among others. The Lockdown Learners series also provide a platform for students to receive mentorship and knowledge support through activity-based learning, and to use their talents and skills to promote awareness and share ideas and solutions to address some of these problems. The series has reached thousands of children and young people in India.
